Give thanks to God for all the gifts that life has given you, for the wonderful world in which you find yourself, where you work and progress.

Rende graças a Deus por todas as dádivas da vida, no mundo maravilhoso em que te encontras, onde trabalhas e progrides.

A photograph of a field of purple tulips. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some fully open and others as buds. The background shows a blue sky with scattered white clouds and the bare branches of trees. The overall scene is bright and vibrant.

Give thanks for the difficulties which you are confronted with, challenging you for the spiritual growth to which you are destined.

Rende graças a Deus pelas dificuldades que defrontas, desafiando-te para o crescimento espiritual a que estás destinado.

Give thanks to God for the illnesses which polish your moral edges, teaching you patience and freedom.

Rende graças a Deus pelas enfermidades que lapidam as tuas arestas morais, ensinando-te paciência e liberdade.

Give thanks to God for the faith which illuminates your path to ascension, making it impossible for domineering shadows to impede your march.

Rende graças a Deus pela fé que te ilumina o caminho de ascensão, impossibilitando que as sombras dominantes constituam impedimento à tua marcha.

Give thanks to God for your friends, who are stimuli and support during the illuminating path, but give thanks also for your adversaries who convert themselves into strict teachers and severe fiscals, helping you to error less.

Rende graças a Deus pelos amigos, que são estímulo e amparo na senda iluminativa, mas também, pelos adversários que se convertem em mestres rigorosos e fiscais severos, auxiliando-te a errar menos.

Give thanks to God for all that happens to you, however do not forget to give thanks for the evil which has not reached you or the difficulties that have not come to you.

Rende graças a Deus por tudo quanto te acontece, todavia, não te olvides de agradecer o mal que não te alcançou e os dissabores que te não chegaram.
